Sixth form students could switch college

By GREG FARRIMOND
greg.farrimond@jpress.co.uk
@GFarrimondWIG

Students at a troubled sixth form college could end up studying in the other side of the borough.

Plans are now in place to partially shut the centre at Hope Academy with some youngsters relocating to Carmel College.

A meeting has been held to address the concerns of worried students and parents.

Frank Cogley, chair of governors at Hope Academy, said: "I am sure this is the right way forward given the recent difficulties in offering top class education throughout the sixth form."

Rob Peacock, principal of Carmel College (pictured), said: "When Carmel College was asked to work closely with Hope Academy we were more than happy to offer support."

"We are keen to do the best we can for the young people

'We are keen to do the best we can for young people' of the area. Where possible, some of the sixth form teaching is likely to transfer to Carmel.
Rob Peacock

"If there is other experience or expertise we can offer the students of Hope Academy then we will do so."

In the report, posted on Ofsted's website, there is a letter to the school saying: "The school is not making enough progress towards the removal of special measures.

"The sponsor's statement of action is not fit for purpose. Having considered all the evidence I strongly recommend that the academy does not seek to appoint newly qualified teachers."

The report added: "Progress has declined since the previous monitoring inspection. GCSE results in the summer were lower than anticipated and there are still no reliable data to illustrate progress at Key Stage 3. Progress observed by inspectors in lessons and work in students' books indicate that current progress is no better."

"Many students, including boys, the most able and those who are known to be eligible for pupil premium (additional government funding), make very limited progress in lessons because much of the teaching is poor quality and fails to capture their interests and imagination."

Jonathon packs a punch to be crowned amateur champion

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

A young kickboxing champion from St Helens was devastated when a nigging hamstring injury rendered him unable to defend his world title.

But that didn't stop pocket dynamo Jonathon Vaughan from adapting his training to be crowned World Amateur K1 Champion instead.

The nine-year-old's father, Rob, praised the Hughes Shorai, Goldenbelt and Wildcard ABC clubs for helping to prepare his son for the new discipline - which includes knee-strikes and legkicks.

Jonathon had previously won double gold at the 2013 World Kickboxing Championships in North Cyprus in the Under 12s category.

The youngster said: "I was really upset that I couldn't defend my world title, but Sensei Dave said I had to concentrate on getting fit again. I carried on fighting once I was fit and won the Kwon British title this year.

"Then I noticed that the K1 Amateur World Championships were going to be held in London. I knew I would be able to get fit on time, but Dave wanted me to get additional K1 training as it is a completely different style of fighting."

The K1 Amateur World Championships brought together more than 500 competitors from 40 different countries at the former David Beckham soccer dome.

thon, a Bleak Hill Primary School pupil, battled his way through to the final of the under 9s, before being winning the final to be crowned champion.

During the tournament, Jonathon, who also plays rugby for Thatto Heath ARLFC, got to meet several superstars from the sport, including three-time World Champion Peter Aerts.

He added: "I was so proud to win and I got to meet loads of different famous fighters, but the best person I met was Britain's Strongest Man, Eddie Hall. He sat with me prior to my final and talked to me about different training techniques and who his role models were when he was younger."

'Now we can start the fight for justice'

BY ANDY EDGEWORTH
andy.edgeworth@press.co.uk
@AEdgeworthWIG

A St Helens woman calling for a public enquiry into why Primodos pills has won a landmark battle after MPs agreed to disclose all documents.

Marie Lyon's daughter Sarah was born in 1970 missing her arm below the elbow. At the time she was given no explanation but had been given two primodos pills by her GP some eight months earlier.

Marie is now the current chair of The Association for Children Damaged by Hormone Pregnancy Tests - a group made up of parents and children who seek transparency over all issues surrounding Primodos.

She spent last week in Westminster lobbying MPs and, following a debate, the under secretary of state for the Department of Health, George Freeman MP, agreed to the disclosure of all Primo-dos documents.

Primodos was prescribed to women between 1965 and 1978 despite concerns being raised as early as 1967.

Marie said: "I'm delighted that the MPs have agreed to a full disclosure of the documents as we may finally get some answers."

The association was originally formed in 1967 by Jack Astley MP but after years of fighting a legal action failed to reach a conclusion on Primodos and the group (which then had around 500 members) folded in 1982.

However, after new evidence came to light the group was reformed in 2009 and Marie was elected chair in 2012.

Marie said: "Since we reformed we now have 30 new members in the group and many are original members, which is fantastic. Unfortunately we haven't been able to contact some and, in some cases, the children affected have died."

Primodos was prescribed by GPs across Britain in the 1960s and 70s to determine whether or not a woman was pregnant.

It is estimated 1.5 million took the drug before it was taken off the market in 1978. Bayer Pharmaceuticals denies the drug was responsible for causing deformities.

£4m payout for brain injury crash victim

By NATALIE WALKER
natalie.walker@press.co.uk
@NWalkerWIG

A man whose life was turned upside down after sustaining a severe brain injury in a car smash has landed a multi-million pound pay-out.

After an eight-year legal battle, Paul Vallance - who was treated in Haydock's Transitional Rehabilitation Unit from 2012 - has been awarded a £4m High Court settlement for the horrific injuries he suffered.

Aged just 18, he was driving friends home after a night out in Wiltshire in April 2006 when a driver travelling in the opposite direction lost control and ploughed into his car.

He sustained a severe traumatic injury to the frontal lobe of his brain which affects emotional control, leaving him with serious communication problems, behavioural difficulties and anger management issues.

Paul, now 26, also sustained a fractured leg, injuries to his shoulder and feet, a broken nose and cuts and bruises.

His mum, Tina Collins, said the accident had destroyed Paul's life. He was in Great Western Hospital in Swindon for 19 days where his wounds were tended to.

But despite suffering from amnesia and being unable to speak, he wasn't given any neuro-rehabilitation treatment for the serious blow to the head he sustained.

She said: "In the immediate aftermath, Paul was suffering from amnesia, had lost the ability to speak and was in a confused and angry state.

"My loving son had been replaced by a much angrier, hostile young man. He would spend hours just staring at himself in a mirror, saying repeatedly 'I look like Paul, but I don't feel like Paul'. My heart was in bits seeing him like this."

High hopes for rhyming tale

■ St Helens children's author, Rachel Lyon, is celebrating the launch of her second rhyming story, 'I Wish I'd Been Born A Unicorn.'

■ Rachel, who lives in Rainford, enjoyed huge success with her first book, The Cautionary Tale of The Child of Hale, which was short-listed for UK's best picture book at the 2014 Heart of Hawick Awards.

College strategy plan

St Helens College is inviting students to improve its performance.

Bosses are asking for input into its strategic plan which is aimed at accelerating the college's overall performance from good to outstanding.

The plan outlines the intended direction of the college, detailing, for example, its key priorities around English and maths, teaching, learning and assessment and also highlights the progress of the college's £5m refurbishment project at the Technology Centre Campus plus its future plans to refurbish both the SmithKline Beecham and the Grade II listed Frodsham buildings.

The college, which was ranked in the top four per cent nationally of all schools and colleges in the ALPS recent report, aims to continue its success as a major provider of education and training at all levels from basic English and maths to full honours degrees, with nearly 10,000 students, 568 employees and 561 employer links.

£250k cannabis farm

Police uncovered a cannabis farm at a house in St Helens last week.

A drugs warrant was executed by officers at a property on Derbyshire Hill Road shortly before 9.30am.

Officers carried out a full search of the property and discovered a cannabis farm containing more than 250 plants with an estimated yield of in excess of £250,000.

The plants and a large amount of hydroponics equipment have since been seized.

Neighbourhood Sergeant Paul Hudson said: "This was a large-scale set-up that was very sophisticated and would have yielded a significant crop."

Anyone with information can call police on the 101 non-emergency number or Crimestoppers, in confidence, on 0800 555 111.

Husband cleared over wife's sudden death

BY CHRIS AMERY

Police have confirmed they are taking no action against a grieving husband who only found out his wife was dead when he was arrested on suspicion of her murder.

Stephen Edwards, who had reported his wife, Angela, missing from their Cromdale Grove home in Parr in September, was initially arrested on suspicion of wounding after a speck of blood was discovered in their kitchen.

But he only discovered that police had found his wife's body in woodland just 200 yards from their home when detectives told him he was being held on suspicion of murder.

Mr Edwards, who was still on bail when he attended his

Stephen Edwards has been cleared after being arrested over her murder wife's funeral, described the ordeal as "the worst two weeks of my life" and now intends to lodge a formal complaint about his treatment by the police.

He said: "In the space of two days I lost my wife, my life fell apart and I found myself locked in a cell. It was awful - it's the kind of thing you never think is going to happen to you.

"I'm obviously relieved to now have that suspicion off my shoulders - but I knew all along that nothing was going to happen because I hadn't done anything wrong.

Mrs Edwards, 38, was reported missing on Friday, September 19.

Her body was then discovered in undergrowth in fields off Fleet Lane - known locally as Sutton Brook - at about 3pm the following day. A floral tribute was subsequently created close to where her body was found.

She had married Mr Edwards six years ago and the couple had seven children between them - all from previous relationships.

Mr Edwards now lives in Peasley Cross because it was too upsetting to go back to Cromdale Grove.

A police spokesman said: "Merseyside Police can confirm that no further action is being taken against the 38-year-old local man arrested on suspicion of murder in connection with the death of Angela Edwards."

Hospice extension handover

Lights of love appeal launch

By Andrew Nowell
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@ANowellWIG

Willowbrook Hospice's new in-patient area has moved a big step closer to opening with the end of phase one of construction work.

Contractors Paragon Construction recently handed over phase one of the new build, which includes two more bedrooms with French windows for outdoor access, to hospice staff.

The ambitious £663,000 capital grants project also includes landscaping the gardens outside the new rooms, refurbishing the diner and creating a new lounge and laundry room as well as building an outside dining area for patients, relatives and carers.

The work, which is now set to be completed just before Christmas, will leave Willowbrook with one double bedroom and eight single rooms, which chief executive Neil Wright says will help it meet the increasing demands for its services in the area.

Mr Wright said: "We have very high demand from people needing to come into the hospice, but as demand is increasing it's not just about building bedrooms, we have to improve all the other facilities and areas too.

"We've also got Olivia Kirk, who's won gold medals at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show, to design a new garden in an overgrown area and it's looking great.

"It's been a hard project because of the complexity of the refurbishment, but following the handover everybody is delighted with the look and feel of the new facilities."

Mr Wright said one of the main aims of the refurbishment was to provide more private rooms for individual patients, replacing the previous arrangement which had five patients cared for in two bedrooms.

Willowbrook hopes to increase its in-patient unit capacity to 12 beds in the future if it can raise enough money for the extra doctors and nursing support.

The hospice has now embarked on the final phase of the current extension work, which includes interior decorating such as replacing carpets which Mr Wright said staff have been hoping to change for some time.

However, Mr Wright also said the completion of the current refurbishment, which was first announced in March 2013, will only be the latest part of a series of continuous improvements at Willowbrook.

He said: "The work never stops. As soon as we have finished this improvement we will start looking at other projects which will enable us to support even more local people.

An official opening ceremony for the new in-patient area is expected to take place after Christmas.

St Helens Reporter readers are also doing their part for the new development by donating loose change to Willowbrook as part of the Jam Jar Army campaign, which hopes to raise £10,000 for a new member of staff who will work in the newly-extended in-patient unit.

Mr Wright said: "The Jam Jar Army is absolutely fantastic. Without the support of local people we couldn't deliver this special care. The campaign enables us to take on the extra staff for the increased beds."

Willowbrook Hospice has launched its annual Christmas appeal, Lights of Love 2014.

The Lights of Love provides an opportunity for people to celebrate, reflect and remember the lives of loved ones while supporting the work of their local hospice at the same time.

For Reda Newton from Blackbrook donating to the Lights of Love helps her celebrate the life of her husband, Tom, who died from cancer at Willowbrook.

She said: "I can't thank the staff at Willowbrook Hospice enough for their kindness to both Tom and myself and for taking such good care of him."

Everyone who makes a donation to the appeal receives a personalised Lights of Love card and badge and the names of their loved ones recorded in the Book of Honour which can be viewed at the Lights of Love ceremonies in December (8 December - Prescot Parish Church, 9 December - Church of the Holy Spirit, Dovecot and 10 December - St Mary's, Lowe House, St Helens). The book will also be on display at the hospice from December 15.

Are you still unaware of the benefits of Lifetime Mortgages?

By Phil Rea

I'm surprised that many people are unaware of the benefits that Equity Release/Lifetime Mortgages can provide. Over the many years I've worked in financial services there are still the incorrect perceptions of, 'I will lose my home' or 'my house will no longer be mine' but there have been huge improvements and safeguards added to protect clients. With increasing house prices, competitive fixed interest rates and increased popularity, perhaps now is an ideal opportunity to take a look at how a Lifetime Mortgage could benefit you.

There are various reasons why clients take out these plans ranging from paying off credit card debt or mortgages, to carrying out much needed home improvements. As we live longer, many people are finding it difficult to 'just survive' and having considered and discounted alternatives such as moving home, they are struggling to find a long-term solution to their financial difficulties.

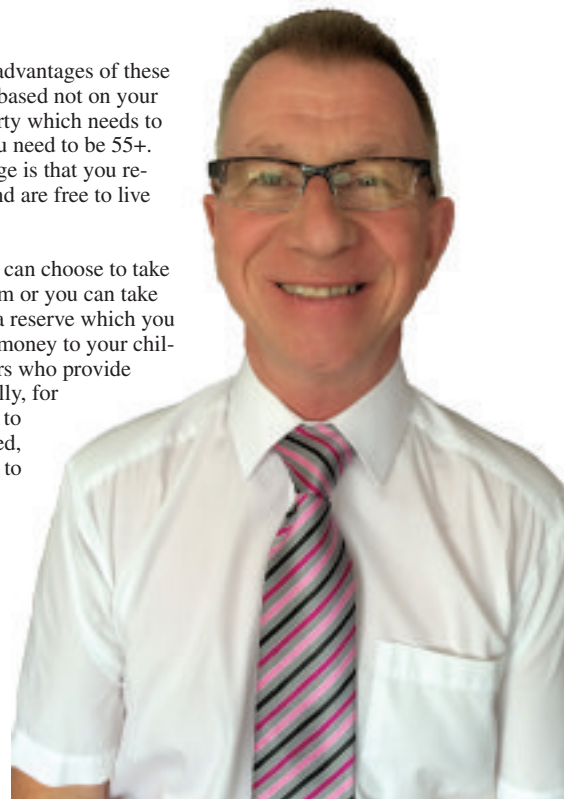

Recently I visited a client in her early 70s who was finding it impossible to look after her home as she wished and was now having to employ both a cleaner and an occasional gardener, something 10 years earlier she would never have considered. This is now a necessity and is adding to her monthly costs, leaving her less money to spend on herself from her pension.

So are these for you? One of the main advantages of these plans is that the amount you borrow is based not on your income, but on the value of your property which needs to be at least £60,000 and your age, as you need to be 55+. An added benefit of a Lifetime Mortgage is that you retain the full ownership of your home and are free to live in it for as long as you wish.

Improvements to these plans mean you can choose to take your money as a one-off lump sum or you can take a smaller amount now and have a reserve which you draw on in the future. If leaving money to your children is a priority, there are lenders who provide protected inheritance plans. Finally, for those wishing to make payments to reduce the amount of money owed, a number of plans have a facility to repay the interest and even some of the money borrowed!

Council tax arrears

By ANDREW NOWELL
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@ANowellWIG

St Helens residents have some of the lowest council tax arrears in the area, figures released by the council reveal.

Residents in the town have racked up a bill to the local authority equivalent to £100 per household, with only Halton of the surrounding councils owed less at £91 per home.

The St Helens figures compared to unpaid council tax figures of £113 per household in Sefton, £114 in Wigan, £116 in Knowsley and £450 in Liverpool, the worst figures in the country according to the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG).

In addition St Helens Council collected £3.3m more in council tax in 2013/14 than it did during the previous financial year.

The figures were released after the DCLG revealed the national figures for council tax arrears, which showed British taxpayers collectively owe their town halls £2.5bn, with records on uncollected arrears going back to 1993.

This led some Government figures to accuse councils with high levels of arrears of not doing enough to get people to pay up, but St Helens Council strongly defended its performance.

A spokesman said: "The council operates robust and fair recovery procedures for the collection of council tax over the life of the debt."

"Recovery in 2013/14 was in line with expectations and took account both of the reductions in support available to low-income households due to the Government's welfare reforms and austerity measures and revised recovery procedures to help low-income households."

Arrears rates per household vary from £450 in Liverpool to just £14 owed by Amber Valley residents, which is believed to be the lowest in the country.

Two-car crash

■ Firefighters were called out following a two-car crash in Eccleston on Monday. Two crews were called to Bleak Hill Road shortly after 4.45pm. They administered first aid at the scene and made sure both vehicles were left safe. No-one else was injured.

Jobs attack council property 100 times

Mesnes Park and 12 at Sankey Valley Park.

St Helens Council was unable to release information about how much the damage has cost over the years, but the bill is expected to be in the thousands.

A council spokesman said: "We deplore any act of vandalism. But when it takes place on or against council property it's usually our communities that suffer - with buildings or facilities taken out of use while they await repair. Damaged equipment is also a safety risk and of course the bill for repairs is ultimately picked up by council tax payers.

"The council works hard to protect its property and tackle vandals - with CCTV cameras installed at many locations across the borough and our security teams making regular patrols at key locations including the borough's primary and secondary schools.

"We'd urge anyone who witnesses acts of vandalism to contact the police non-emergency number on 101 as quickly as possible."

Meanwhile, Helena Housing has spent more than £34,000 on repairing deliberate damage to its properties over the last four years,

The bill has almost halved over the last two years, with 89 jobs costing £13,338 in 2012 and 61 reports, worth £7,783.

So far this year there have been 16 reports of vandalism, at a cost of £1,194.

A spokesman for Helena Housing said: "Interestingly, the figure this year-to-date is very low but follows a downward trend.

"We are responsible for 13,000 homes in St Helens and took over responsibility for council housing in 2002. We are not just here to build and manage homes, we want to regenerate communities, create opportunities, improve peoples' lives and help everyone live independently for longer."

A proud heritage 20 years ago

St Helens' proud mining heritage came to an abrupt end when the mighty twin winding towers at Parkside Colliery were wiped off the face of the earth.

The former colliery's mechanical engineer, Mike Hibbert, pressed the button which ended an era and demolished two of Newton's most prominent landmarks. Tears were shed by a crowd of more than 100 onlookers - including former pitmen - who turned out to witness the final tragic chapter in the history of Parkside. The colliery closed in 1992 with the loss of 730 jobs.

Haulage boss dies 25 years ago

The family of Eccleston entrepreneur Ken Gaskell vowed to continue his haulage business following his tragic death.

Mr Gaskell, 44, of K Gaskell and Sons Ltd, died after sustaining serious injuries in a road accident on the Rainford Bypass.

With fighting spirit his son Andrew, 18, said: "We're going to try our best to keep the business going. Dad built it up over the years and would have wanted us to carry it on." Andrew's pledge was supported by his mother, Vivian, 43, brother Peter, 12, and other family members.

Shooting injury 30 years ago

A 31-year-old man suffered serious injury over the weekend when he was shot in the arm and shoulder while out on a shooting trip near Billinge Lump. Brian Bimms, of Oakley Avenue, Billinge, was accidentally shot with a single barrel shotgun which was being carried by one of his friends. A hospital spokesperson confirmed that the casualty was progressing slowly but was responding to treatment. A police spokesman said officers had deemed that there were no suspicious circumstances surrounding the incident.

COURT REPORTER

Police hunt car wash assault thug

Police are hunting a thug who assaulted and then attempted to run over a member of staff after demanding a free car wash.

The suspect went into the ARC car wash office on Park

Road shortly after 2pm on October 17.

When he was refused a free car wash he assaulted a male member of staff and made a racist remark before trying to run the victim over in his silver Vauxhall Corsa as he made off.

DC Stacey Traynor said: "We're particularly keen to speak to a man who was walking a number of dogs at the time of the incident."

Man wanted for jail recall goes on the run

Police are hunting a 30-year-old man who is wanted on recall to prison.

Graham John Kent is serving a lengthy sentence for assault following an attack in Stockbridge Village in 2009 in which a man was stabbed in the chest and leg.

He is described as white, around 5ft 9in tall and of a slim build. He has short straight brown hair and speaks with a Liverpool accent.

Police say Kent is known to have links to the Liverpool North, Huyton and Prescot areas.

Officers would ask Kent, or anyone who knows of his whereabouts, to contact them on 0151 777 6256 or 0151 777 6674 or via the police non-emergency 101 number.

People can also speak to Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Trust celebrates new foundation status

By ANDY EDGEWORTH
andrew.edgeworth@press.co.uk
@AEdgeworthWIG

A St Helens community healthcare trust is celebrating becoming one of only two trusts in the country to be given foundation status.

It means the Bridgewater Community Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust - who

Dr Kate Fallon

'This means we can improve things for our patients'

provide a range of community based health facilities across St Helens and eight other boroughs - will now be have more autonomy to decide how to improve services for its patients in St Helens and be able to retain any surpluses it generates to invest in new services.

Bridgewater - alongside Derbyshire - are the first community health trust to be granted foundation status by Monitor, the health regulator.

Dr Kate Fallon, the chief executive of Bridgewater was quick to praise everybody involved at the trust in light of the achievement.

She said: "This has been six years in the making and it is testament to all the staff and our partners at all our local authorities, hospitals, CCG's, mental health trusts and all other s we work mwith that we have been granted foundation trusts status.

"It is a big accolade for Wigan and the CQC and Monitor have been extremely complimentary about the trust.

"This means we can improve things for our patients and it is vital that they stay well as long as possible and when ill they be as well as possible.

"We work tirelessly with our partner organisations to underpin and deliver health and social care in the communities we serve in line with national policy.

"It will be vital moving forward as the challenges the health service will face in the future with people living longer who require care at a time when funding is falling."

WWiSH... you had double the fun?

Last year we found forever families for 86 children in Warrington, Wigan and St. Helens.

There are still sibling groups needing forever families.

Could you adopt these brother and sisters?

Find out more, call 01942 487272, e-mail wwish@wigan.gov.uk or visit www.wwish.org.uk

Helping siblings stay together during adoption

Could you help keep a family together?

This year's National Adoption Week (November 3 to 9) focuses on siblings in a bid to encourage more people to come forward and adopt brothers and sisters.

Currently there are seven sets of siblings in desperate need of a loving family across the three WWiSH (Warrington, Wigan and St Helens) authorities - five groups of two siblings and two groups of three.

Since 2013, there has been a 65 per cent decrease in the number of sibling groups waiting to be adopted.

Earlier this year, Channel 4's 15,000 Kids and Counting showed siblings, Lauren and Liam placed with a loving family.

The programme gave viewers unprecedented access into the adoption process, giving them a glimpse into the difficult, but rewarding journey social workers face when searching for a forever family.

Social worker Annette, 35, from Wigan, was described as a hero by the press and the public.

Her commitment to the children in her care, including siblings Lauren and Liam, had viewers on the edge of their seats.

She said: "When we think about keeping siblings together, we tend to consider our own sibling relationships and our children's sibling relationships. While a joint placement is not always appropriate, there are real benefits of placing siblings together."

"Children in foster care experience a variety of emotions which include sadness, loss, confusion and even guilt. Some children will have gone

'There is a real benefit of placing brothers and sisters together'

'Joint placements helps rebuild their individual strength' through traumatic experiences and have those emotions to deal with on top of that.

"Having a sibling with them can help them with these feelings, as well as supporting the child to maintain a sense of identity when everything else familiar to them is gone.

"I believe siblings remaining together, when it is appropriate and safe, helps them re-build their individual strength and resilience. Siblings are a source of support to one another. Not only this but they learn skills from one another and develop empathy as a result of that sibling relationship."

Coun Lynn Glover, cabinet member for Early Years and Young People's, said: "Since the launch of WWiSH we've placed lots of children with loving families.

"It would be fantastic if this week we can find these seven sibling groups a loving family too."

If you have enough love for more than one child, find out more information here: 01942 487272 or email wwish@wigan.gov.uk

Prof Riccardo Audisio, St Helens Teaching Hospital, and Prof Graeme Poston, Aintree University Hospital

New appointment for top surgeon

A St Helens surgeon has been named as the president of the world's leading cancer surgery organisation.

Prof Riccardo Audisio, who works at St Helens Hospital, has become the head figure at European Society of Surgical Oncology (ESSO), which represents more than 20,000 cancer surgeons from across Europe and the Middle East.

He will take over from Prof Graeme Poston, of Aintree University Hospital in Liverpool, and this is the first time that clinicians from the same region have followed each other in being named as ESSO president.

More than 1,500 surgical oncologists gathered from across the globe to attend the three-day congress at Liverpool's BT Convention Centre.

The event was the first global international congress of cancer surgeons, with ESSO having invited delegates from sister associations from as far afield as the US, Brazil, India and China.

Prof Riccardo, a consultant surgical oncologist, said: "I am very much looking forward to my role as president, building on the work which Prof Poston has undertaken. In addition to giving excellent care to our patients, Merseyside's clinical teams are shaping international standards and developments."

"Cancer is a significant health challenge nationally and internationally, and the congress will give specialists from across the world the chance to learn from each other, with benefits for literally hundreds of thousands of patients."

Prof Poston, consultant liver surgeon, said: "It's been a great honour to be president of such an influential body, and it's tribute to the strength of Merseyside's reputation for clinical excellence that I am passing this role on to my colleague Prof Audisio from a neighbouring hospital."

"Our local patients are benefitting from world-class cancer surgery, and we want to develop this excellence even further as we move forward. We're very proud of what we are achieving together in Merseyside."

The Gift of Yours and Many Lifetimes

Are you a Saxon, a Viking, or a Norman? Or are you descended from the hundreds of lineages from all over the world that are found in the DNA of the British?

All of us on these islands are immigrants, descendants both of pioneers who repopulated the North after the end of the last ice age and also much more recent arrivals.

Chromo2 is the world's most sophisticated deep ancestry DNA test. It can unlock the secrets of your past and trace fatherlines and motherlines back into the darkness of prehistory, discover the DNA of the Ice Age Refuges and the First Farmers and much else. Looking at more recent ancestry, it can tell you how British you are or whether or not you carry genes from the Mediterranean, the Baltic, Eastern Europe or much further afield. It can even tell you if you are a carrier of the red hair gene variant. And with our new Blue Eyes test, you can discover your eye colour genotype. In other words BritainsDNA can answer an age-old question - it can tell you where you come from.

£800 cost per year for a child’s schooling

More than 12,000 St Helens families are struggling to afford to send their children to school.

A report, compiled by Children’s Commission on Poverty, shows that parents in the borough are paying a staggering £17m a year to meet the most basic costs of their children’s schooling, leading to many children missing out on key opportunities to make the most of their education, and facing bullying and embarrassment. The average cost for school clothing, sports kits, school meals, trips, books, materials for classes, stationery, computers for homework, travel to and from school and summer clubs or activities is almost £800 per child each year.

The Commissioners, aged 10 to 19, discovered that more than half of the poorest families say they have had to borrow money to pay for essential school items.

Children are also struggling with the cost of the increased requirement to use computers.

Nearly two-thirds of children living in the country’s poorest families say they are embarrassed as a result of not being able to afford key aspects of school and more than a quarter said this has led them to being bullied.

Cyrus, a young commissioner, aged 14, said: “Poverty isn’t just a physical problem, but has a mental effect on children. Children are being treated differently if they are living in poverty. They are made to stand out. They don’t have computers good enough to download the software they need to do homework. Some have stickers put on their books.

“If real change is to be made, schools need to be aware of poverty and its effects on children so they can support the child though the most important years of their life.”

Rob Jackson, area director for The Children’s Society in Greater Manchester, said: “Children are supposed to be benefiting equally from a free education. Yet the reality is that families in St Helens are paying millions of pounds each year towards the cost of school. Children are being penalised and denied their right to an equal education simply because their parents cannot afford the basics.

“The government needs to listen to this crucial report by young commissioners and act to make sure no child is stopped from getting an education equal to their peers. It must stop children from being made to suffer because they are living in poverty.”

Launched in October 2013, the Commission allows children to join forces and examine first-hand the stark realities facing thousands of families living below the poverty line.

Supported by The Children’s Society, it is leading an 18-month investigation into child poverty in the UK.

Property NEWS

A classic British manor house

Sharon Dale discovers decor that lives up to its spectacular surroundings

Decisiveness is obviously one of Jan Alston's key character traits. She is not one to vacillate, especially when it comes to design.

It's why her home is the picture of perfection with a distinctive, elegant style.

It also helped her to secure the house in 2005. She and her husband Bill had a long list of properties to see and Bank House was second on the list. They decided within minutes that it was the one, put in an offer and bought it. No messing.

The spacious manor house dates from 1677. It is packed with period features ranging from an inglenook fireplace to beams, flagstone floors and a frontage made pretty by the Georgians.

The walled garden was beautiful but the interiors needed some love and attention, which was another attraction, as Jan wanted to put her design skills to use.

She trained in graphic design and worked in interiors, so took charge of the project. Her self-imposed remit was to create a warm and comfortable home.

One of the first jobs was creating a new kitchen. The one they inherited had a sink, an Aga and shelves with no fitted units. Jan commissioned handmade cabinets from a local joiner.

While contractors were busy with the plumbing and fitting in the utility and bathrooms, Jan redecorated and restyled the rest of the house, which was an enormous task.

The property has a dining hall, breakfast kitchen, larder, utility, drawing room, garden room, study, master bedroom with en-suite bathroom, guest bedroom with shower room, three further bedrooms, a family bathroom and a cloakroom.

"I wanted a sophisticated space in keeping with the elegant architecture of the manor house," she says.

The new décor includes walls painted in Farrow and Main, the sitting room stripes by Jan are in Farrow and Ball colours, above right, the manor house has a south-facing rear garden; below right, wallpaper brings subtle colour and interest to the garden room.

Ball, and wallpaper by Zoffany and Colefax and Fowler. Fabrics are by Kate Foreman and Cabbages and Roses. Flooring is limestone and old stone flags covered with Sisal rugs from Crucial Trading.

The kitchen is painted in F&B's Stony Ground while the drawing room is a delectable Setting Plaster pink.

The latter was a gamble that paid off, while the Powder Blue in the dining room had been tried and tested in a previous property.

Jan created the striped wall effect in the sitting room with masking tape and pots of Bone and Lime White emulsion.

Furniture is a mix of mostly vintage and antique finds with the odd new piece, like the sofa in the drawing room, which is from An Angel at My Table.

"We brought most of the furniture and lighting with us and a lot of it is from flea markets and antique fairs. I prefer to buy older pieces because they suit the house," she says.

The exquisite French-style bed was from an antique market in Bath and was in a sorry state when she rescued it. She had it re-upholstered and painted, and it is now topped with a coronet on the wall above.

Decoration comes from paintings and a collection of mostly white and cream ceramics. Other home accessories are from a favourite shop, Blossom and Walker, in York.

Tying it all together is the colour scheme, which is soft, muted and designed to be restful.

"I don't like bright colours," says Jan. "I think you tire of them and I think more neutral shades are relaxing."

It will be hard for the next owners of the house to disagree and the hunt is on to find them now that Jan and Bill have decided to sell.

"We are selling to move back near our children but we will miss the house and the village," says Jan.

The five renovation steps you can't avoid

Stick to these rules for a hassle-free refit, writes Julia Gray

When renovating your home, the final style and finish of your home is entirely up to you - where you have less free rein, however, is in these five renovation essentials...

1 Do tackle the basics first. With a property that needs lots of work, start with the essentials, such as rewiring, replumbing, replacing the central heating system, and addressing any damp and structural problems. If you do things in the wrong order or try to cut corners, you'll end up ruining what you've already done. If you replaster walls without solving a damp problem, for example, the damp will simply come through the new plaster, which will then have to be hacked off.

2 Do start at the top and work down. Ideally, a loft conversion should be done before renovating the rooms below, as it's much less painful to have a leak (from water getting in when the roof's off) or a hole in a ceiling (from a builder slipping in the loft) in rooms that need work anyway. If you're decorating a room, start by painting the ceiling because the paint can splatter the walls and floor below, and work down from there, doing the floor last.

3 Do extend into the side return. Lots of properties, especially Victorian and Edwardian ones, have a side return - a narrow strip of garden that typically runs alongside the kitchen. This isn't much use as garden, because it's usually too narrow to sit out in, but can make a big difference to the space indoors. By extending into the side return, you can turn a narrow kitchen into a good-sized kitchen-diner, which is a great addition to any home and will make yours more valuable and sellable.

4 Do create open-plan living space, as this is high on the wish list of many buyers, especially families and people who like to entertain. If you can't extend into the side return, building a rear extension and/or knocking two rooms into one, typically a separate kitchen and dining-room, will produce the open-plan kitchen-diner/family room so many of us love. A wall of bi-fold doors onto the garden is also popular and gives the room the wow factor.

5 Do turn a one-bedroom property into a two-bed. If you can add bedrooms, you can usually add value, although it can be a mistake to make the property too top heavy, with too many bedrooms for the amount of living space downstairs, or to have too many bedrooms for the number of bathrooms. In some locations, especially expensive urban ones, turning a one-bedroom property into a two-bedroom one can propel it into a different price bracket when you come to sell. This may involve extending, or converting the loft or cellar, but there are ways to add a bedroom without spending a lot. Changing the layout may enable you to divide one room into two, turn a second reception room into a bedroom, or if you have a large living room, put the kitchen in there and use the former kitchen as a bedroom.

Arranging a Funeral

After the passing of a loved one, arranging their funeral can be overwhelming. Knowing what costs to expect will help you make better decisions and can relieve any unnecessary stress.

If you take on the responsibility of payment, it's important to understand what fees are both applicable and optional. Enlisting the help of a funeral director to help with the administration and final arrangements is what you must do.

When emotions are running high, dealing with finances and the deceased's estate is never easy. Most funerals are arranged by either the next of kin or a close friend. If there is nobody to undertake the procedures, the local health authority will arrange a simple funeral.

Using a Funeral Director

The majority of funerals are arranged by a funeral director. They will take on the responsibility of arranging the logistics of the funeral on your behalf and ensure that everything is legally sound.

Standard responsibilities often include:

- Finding a coffin.
- Transporting the body to the funeral director's premises.
- Taking care of the person who has passed.
- Providing a hearse.
- Providing people to carry the coffin.
- Making legal arrangements.

Additional services may include:

- Buying flowers.
- Informing the press.
- Hiring extra cars.
- Catering arrangements.
- The use of a Chapel of Rest.
- Arranging an organist.

When you have decided what funeral director to use, they will provide a breakdown of their services and costs with an overall price estimate. And on this page are Funeral Directors happy to serve you, do tell them you saw them in your St Helens Reporter.

COMMENT

Council leader

Barrie Grunewald

Honour our fallen heroes

This weekend sees the borough paying its annual tribute to the servicemen and women who fell during the conflicts of the 20th and 21st centuries.

Remembrance Sunday is an opportunity to remember and reflect on the sacrifices made by those who served. It's a solemn occasion that allows everyone to quietly pay their respects to those who gave their lives.

As usual there will be a special Remembrance ceremony in Victoria Square (at 10.45am) featuring veterans and young representatives from the cadets, scouts and guides. Other events will also be taking place in Earlestown, Eccleston, Billinge and Rainhill.

COULD you help keep a family together? That's what organisers of this year's National Adoption Week – taking place this week – are hoping for.

It focuses on siblings in a bid to encourage more people to come forward and adopt brothers and sisters.

Currently there are seven sets of siblings in desperate need of a loving family across the three WWiSH (War-rington, Wigan and St Helens) authorities - five groups of two siblings and two groups of three. Since 2013, there has been a 65 per cent decrease in the number of sibling groups waiting to be adopted.

Children in foster care experience a range of emotions - from sadness and loss to confusion and even guilt. Some children will have gone through traumatic experiences and have those emotions to deal with on top of that. But having a sibling with them can help them with these feelings, as well as supporting the child to maintain a sense of identity when everything else familiar to them is gone.

Since we launched WWiSH a couple of years ago we've placed lots of children with families. It would be fantastic if, this week, we can find more for our sibling groups too.

Belated congratulations to our very own Martin Murray, after his successful WBC Silver middleweight title defence against Domenico Spada in Monte Carlo.

Martin is a fantastic ambassador for the town. He loves St Helens and flies the flag for us during his many fights abroad by wearing the Saints' crest on his shorts.

And his win in Monaco sets things up nicely for a world class sporting weekend in February – when he is due to fight Kazakhstan superstar Gennady Golovkin for the WBA belt just 24 hours before Saints meet South Sydney Rabbitohs in the World Club Challenge at Langtree Park.

Finally, if you're off to a fireworks display this evening, enjoy it - but stay safe! And don't forget, we've got one of the biggest and best displays around taking place in Sherdley Park.

It starts at 7pm with a children's fireworks display, while the main event - the grand fireworks display - starts at 8pm. There'll be plenty happening in the meantime, with fun rides for the kids (6pm to 9pm) and stalls selling hot food and drinks to keep everyone warm.

Try and get there early though - as parking spaces will be filling up fast.

ROAD TEST - FORD MONDEO 2.0 TDCI 150

Mondeo has a sleek new look

DESPITE the looks, this is an all-new Ford Mondeo.

It concentrates on comfort more than before, and it has a range of new engines to cut emissions and improve fuel economy.

Prime among these are new 1.0-litre turbo petrol and 1.5-litre turbodiesel motors that bring a new wave of down-sizing to the family car class.

There are fewer dash buttons to come to terms with and Ford now fits a large touchscreen to operate many functions.

On top of this, Ford's Sync2 voice control system lets the driver change settings with simple commands while keeping both hands on the steering wheel.

At first glance, you could be forgiven for thinking the new fifth generation Ford Mondeo is not much more than a facelifted version of the previous car.

The overall silhouette is much the same, as is much of the rear end style.

However, the slimmer headlights give a sleeker look that will be key to the Mondeo clawing back sales from the likes of the Audi A4 and BMW 3 Series that have proved so popular with their premium images. If the Mondeo is not seen as quite as premium as its rivals from Audi and BMW, it easily better them for cabin space and load lugging.

Most UK buyers will opt for the Mondeo hatch or estate, with only the Hybrid version available as a saloon.

There is masses of room in the rear and there is a wealth of adjustment to fine tune the driving position that includes electric seat height adjustment. As for the boot, the hatch's is large and the estate's is cavernous. Ford has made a conscious effort to make the new Mondeo an even more comfortable car than its predecessor.

This means the new car's suspension has a little more compliance that translates into a superbly smooth ride over any type of road surface. Refinement is also top drawer, so the Mondeo is a class leader for long distance travel.

FOUR NATIONS

'We can end the dominance from Down Under' - Wilkin

RUGBY LEAGUE

BY JOHN YATES
sthelens.sportsdesk@lep.co.uk
@StHelensRep

AUSTRALIA 16 ENGLAND 12

England's hopes of reaching the Four Nations Final are still in the melting pot but Saints' Jon Wilkin believes they can end the world dominance of Australia and New Zealand on the international front.

Still smarting from their 16-12 defeat against Australia on Sunday, in which Leeds Rhinos winger Ryan Hall was denied a last-gasp try in highly-controversial circumstances, they now face world champions New Zealand in Dunedin on Saturday hoping that at the very least their points difference will be good enough to secure a place in the Wellington Final a week later.

It's a daunting task but Wilkin, who has suffered his fair share of setbacks against the two leading southern hemisphere countries in the past, said: "When you play the best teams in the world, you have to put them to the sword if the chance arrives.

"We failed to execute that when facing the Australians at the weekend but will need to do so against the Kiwis and repeat it if we get to the final."

Wilkin, speaking on BBC TV, said: "I think New Zealand are the best team in the competition and they will be extremely difficult to beat but I believe, with a complete performance, we can win.

"The days, however, are long gone since New Zealand were just a big, robust team with not much structure around them.

"In Shaun Johnson and Kieran Foran, they've got best two half-backs in the competition, and stopping their effectiveness is crucial if we are to emerge victors."

Former St Helens team-mate and ex-international skipper Paul Sculthorpe shares Wilkin's optimism.

Scully said: "Yes, I think we can do it. The lads will have taken a great deal of confidence from Sunday's performance because they know Australia were there for the taking.

James Graham tries to fend off an Oz player

The England wteam line up for the national anthem

They've got to do what they did well against the Kangaroos - play quick on the Kiwis and pressure Johnson. He's their talisman and England must stop him playing.

"Australia have always been the number one team in the world and the way England shut up shop maybe showed there is a mental block playing against them. That's something we've never had against the Kiwis."

Both also entered the raging debate over Hall's disallowed last-minute try at the weekend which Australian match official Gerry Sutton sent 'upstairs' to his brother, Bernard, who was the video referee, for a final judgement.

Wilkin described it as "one of the most important moments in England Rugby League international history.

He said: "The officials claimed the ball was on the upward and that is what has forced the finger up but I disagree. At full speed it does not look like a try but when you

Hall's disallowed last-minute try slow it down it does.

"Hall seemed to touch the ball down but the try was not given and as a player there is nothing you can do. In rugby what sets us apart is that we just get on with it.

"There was no whinging to the referee, but the lads will think that it was difficult decision to take."

Sculthorpe added: "England were hard done by. Hall's touching the ball on the way down - and that's grounding.

The ball is on the floor, you can see the finger go up - there is definitely pressure on the ball.

"As a player, you're watching the replay and you have to think you've scored. Some days those go for you, sometimes they don't. Today it didn't go for England."

● The England-New Zealand match will be screened live by BBC2 at 6.30am, while the Australia-Samoa match on Sunday will be featured on Premier Sports from 5am.

St Helens Town fight for important point and head to 2nd round of Vase

ST HELENS TOWN 2
RUNCORN TOWN 2

ST HELENS TOWN 3-
YORKSHIRE AMATEUR 1

St Helens Town had an improved week result wise picking up a well earned point midweek in the league and advanced to the second round of the FA Vase at the weekend.

Tuesday saw St Helens Town welcome Runcorn Town to Brocstedes Park and after a solid but not exactly noteworthy first half the hosts took the game to Runcorn at the start of the second period and lead by Gareth Grant the hosts took the game by the scruff of the neck.

Grant was involved in the opening goal five minutes after the restart when he beat his marker on the right of the box and squared to Chad Whyte who seems to be hitting good scoring form at present and he made space to turn and fire his effort home taking his tally to three goals in the last two matches and seven for the season and taking him to the top of the Town scoring charts.

The advantage was doubled when 10 minutes later skipper Andy Gillespie did well down the right hand side of the box and his inch perfect low cross found Bell on the far post and he slid the ball home from closer range. St Helens then had a whole host of chances to make the victory assured as Gillespie, Aaron Morris and Bell had chances to net and when the visitors pulled on back on 83 minutes there were flashbacks to the previous Saturday's second half capitulation against Widnes which were heightened when a free kick on the left edge of the St Helens area was deflected away from Rory Crowther and into the net to level matters and was the final goal of the game seeing the points shared and will go down as two points dropped for St Helens Town.

On Saturday the result was much better as Town advanced to the 2nd round of the FA Vase after coming back from a half time deficit.

Town dominated the opening period and it seemed to be inevitable that they would take the lead. Gareth Grant, Aaron Morris and Kris Bell all had chances to open the scoring but as it was the visitors took the lead just before the interval massively against the run of play after a mix up between Lewis Coyle and Rory Crowther on the edge of the box allowed Craig Heard to nip in and net.

It was all Town after the interval and they levelled less than 10 minutes after the restart when a left wing corner took a deflection and broke to Bell who fired home an excellent strike with no back-lift.

Further pressure saw Town take the lead just after the hour mark, leading scorer Chad Whyte latched onto a well weighted through ball rounded the keeper on the edge of the box and fired home past a covering defender.

Progress was effectively secured on 75 minutes when a fine move culminated with skipper Andy Gillespie crossing from the left and the cross just evading Bell before being collected by Jack McKay on the far post and he took a touch before powering the ball home and putting Town in the hat for Monday's second round draw for the first time since 2010.

Town play host Colne at Brocstedes Park this Saturday, November 8 with a 3pm kick off.

Veiver: Our adopted Brit

Some people may feel that Phil Veivers' greatest claim to fame is that he was part of the deal which brought the legendary Mal Meninga to Knowsley Road for that never-to-be-forgotten 1984-85 campaign.

Nothing could be further from the truth and unlike Mighty Mal, who returned home after captivating fans the length of breadth of Britain during his season-long stay, Veivers remained loyal to the club for more than a decade and raised a family in the town before joining Huddersfield.

He has since turned his focus on coaching, becoming in every sense of the word an adopted Brit, and putting a great deal back into the sport he loves

That is no doubt one of the reasons why broadcasters Ray French and Allan Rooney had no hesitation in inviting him to share his memories on tomorrow night's Try

Time programme on BBC Radio Merseyside which will be aired between 6pm and 7pm - and is a must for all Saints' supporters.

Veivers played in Premiership and Lancashire Cup triumphs during his days at Knowsley Road but also knows what it is like to lose on the biggest stage of all - Wembley.

Incidentally, the programme is continuing to run throughout the winter months and both Ray and Allan are hoping to have other Saints' players, both past and present, on board.

The anxious wait is almost over! Saints' new home and away kit will be unveiled on Saturday and, having had a sneak preview, I think it will be another winner with the fans.

Saints have also taken stock of the new O'Neills polo shirt - part of a large range of training and leisure wear available in the superstore - with a lot more to follow over the next few weeks!

The club has worked with partners O'Neills to create a range of clothing which looks great on players and fans as well as being functional for the demands of professional rugby league players.

Liverpool St Helens extend unbeaten record

DOUGLAS ISLE OF MAN 3
LIVERPOOL ST HELENS 12

Liverpool St Helens extended their unbeaten South Lancashire/Cheshire One winning sequence to nine after battling against both Douglas and the elements last Saturday.

They triumphed in a game played in heavy rain and strong winds with a try and each half, underpinned by a strong and secure defensive display.

Winger Dan Parkes crossed in the first half after a good run down the right wing and Centre Matt Cunliffe, impressive all season, broke through the Douglas defensive line in the second to score under the posts.

'WINNING TITLE IS SOMETHING I'LL NEVER FORGET'

Manu talks of the best end to his Saints Career

SAINTS

By CHRIS AMERY

Willie Manu says Saints' Grand Final victory was a fairytale ending to his Super League career.

The 34-year-old returns to his native Australia with a Super League winner's medal to his name.

He said: "There's no better way to end my Saints career. That's why I came here, because Saints are always competing for titles. I'm getting on a bit now too so it means even more!

"It was good for the supporters that they lost a man and it obviously made us favourites to win. I know it's part of the game but it's sad in a way because it would have been a great game with 13 against 13.

"We lost our only half-back too, which disrupted us quite a bit – and it showed in the first half. We couldn't get any sort of rhythm.

"Thankfully we settled down a bit in the second half and played some better rugby. We could feel the momentum turning in the second half."

Manu described the Grand Final victory as "an experience I will never forget".

He added: "Once we all knew who was leaving at the end of the year we said 'let's finish on a high' because a few of us might not be involved in a group like this again. That's what kept us going throughout the year. I'm heading off to spend some time with my parents back in Australia now. I've got an agent looking after me so hopefully he will find me something.

"I've loved my time here though and I'm glad I decided to come out here and experience a different culture and a different league. There have been some tough times but to win this Grand Final is the cherry on the cake."
